	Cartea, prefătată de Prof Dr. Nicolae Păun (UBB) a fost o realizare de înaltă ținută științifică, dar și un succes managerial ca prodecan științific și manager de proiect Jean Monnet, deoarece pentru realizarea acestui volum am coordonat o echipă valoroasă și o conferință academică, iar cartea a fost publicată la Paris, înregistrată în peste 15 biblioteci academice WorldCat / KVK. Studiile din volum tratează aspecte majore ale politicilor economice și externe ale UE, ale relațiilor internaționale europene și bilaterale din perioada contemporana. Established in 2004, the ENP has opened some opportunities for beneficiary countries of this policy. The implementation of the European Neighbourhood Policy (ENP) vis-à-vis the Southern and Eastern partners, has been the subject of scrutiny in the international arena. Recent events in North Africa are forcing a redefinition of priorities in this region and show the new challenges of the ENP. The High Representative’s communication from 25.05.2011 opens new perspectives, and more effectiveness of the ENP is necessary.		20p

The involvement of Regional and local authorities is crucial for the success of the EU Roma Strategy. As an example, Mureș County, known as the county with the largest number of officially registered Romas in Romania, was included in vast projects for the Romas’ social integration, most of them managed by the Roma National Agency and others developed and financed by the authorities from the local budget. The regional and local authorities implemented several concrete measures for Roma inclusion in Social, Education and Health fields. However, long-term vision, perseverance, and active participation of Roms are necessary, for the success of EU Roma Strategy.		40p

De asemenea, analizăm în 2005 pentru prima dată în istoriografia românească, modul în care idealul Uniunii Europene, s-a confruntat cu interesele naționale specifice promovate de Marile Puteri (Germania, Marea Britanie, Italia, URSS), dar și de țările Europei Centrale (Ungaria, Iugoslavia, Cehoslovacia, Polonia, România). 	Am publicat volumul colectiv Integrarea României în UE: provocări și perspective (2007), la prestigioasă Editura Institutul European Iași, în calitate de coordonator chiar în anul aderării României (2007). În prefață, Prof. Dr. Adrian Ivan (UBB) a notat: "Cartea are o dublă importanță: pe de o parte, reunește studii ale unor profesioniști consacrați și ale unor autori tineri din domeniile istoriei, științelor economice, politologiei, mass media, preocupați de procesul integrării României în Uniunea Europeană, iar pe de altă parte, se constituie într-o radiografie a societății românești cu câteva luni înainte de momentul aderării. Volumul topește în economia textului său câteva dimensiuni importante ale integrării României în Uniunea Europeană: politică, de securitate, instituțională, economică și socială. Aspectele politice ale integrării României sunt tratate în studii privind extinderea Uniunii Europene spre Europa Centrală și de Est, atitudinile opiniei publice privind integrarea."

În rândul autorilor regăsim istorici, juriști, politologi, care analizează din perspective diferite și cu metode specifice, moderne, o tematică de instituții și politici europene de perpetuă actualitate și complexitate. Cartea răspunde unei reale necesități științifice, oferind o perspectivă interdisciplinară asupra unor teme de mare interes în studiile europene occidentale: proiectul de Constituție Europeană și nevoia de reformare și consolidare a UE în fața provocărilor extinderii UE spre Răsărit, inclusiv prin aderarea României.

A large part of the Ukrainian elite and society shared the pro-European option, but the pro-Moscow orientation of Government proved to be stronger at the decisive moment of Vilnius Summit. Russia had the political will and the necessary smart power instruments to determine Ukraine to choose Kremlin’s regional projects. It was an important geopolitical victory for Russia. The pro-Russian decision of the Ukrainian Government was based on the economic security arguments, in a difficult context. The author sets forth a series of critical considerations concerning the Eastern Partnership and the Summit in Prague on 7 May 2009, at the same time emphasizing the difficulties of the 6 Eastern republics involved: Armenia, Azerbaijan, Belarus, Georgia, Moldova and Ukraine. The article presents both Russia's official speech concerning the Eastern Partnership together with the EU–Russia dialogue on this issue, and the profound causes of Russia's hostility towards the Eastern Partnership.
